HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. B. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles he manufactures at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and [illegible] separated. It requires no Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs [illegible]. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change the style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore [illegible] the best in use.

Religious Independence

NEW YORK, May 24.—There is every prospect of an early reunion on the part of the Old and New School Presbyterians. They met on Friday and are reported to have voted unanimously for reunion on the basis of a standard joint committee of both the Old and New Schools. They met informally on Saturday, although it is understood that the vote taken was on general views and to perfect harmony.

The proceedings of the Old School Assembly are being principally devoted to the consideration of the report of the Board of Publication.

In the New School Assembly the committee reported that one hundred Presbyteries of this body have given their consent to reunion on the basis proposed by the Joint Committee of Three appointed by the Assembly which met last year. The following Presbyteries voted in the negative: District of Columbia, Detroit, Washington and Chicago. Seventy five Presbyteries desire to amend the basis by omitting a portion of the first and the whole of the tenth article. The report was accepted and referred to a special committee.

The order of the day was the reception of delegates from corresponding bodies and delegates from the Old School.

Dr Riggs of the Dakota mission laid particular stress on missionary work among the Chinese on the Pacific slope.

Considerable discussion arose in reference to outrages on the Chinese in California. Editor of California said the matter had been— Here the dispatch is stopped by a call to press.—Ed.]

Southern News

MEMPHIS, May 24.—On Saturday night an armed band of disguised men stopped the train running from Louisville to Memphis and made an attempt to murder an internal revenue officer named Haby who had a prisoner aboard arrested for illicit distilling. Haby fired into the gang and killed one. The others poured a volley into the train, fortunately injuring no one. The band is supposed to belong to a gang of illicit distillers extending from East Tennessee to the Mississippi.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 24.—The commissioners representing this State and Florida who have been for some time past discussing the preliminaries for the sale of West Florida have come to a decision as to the terms. All that portion of Florida lying west of Apalachicola is to be sold to the State of Alabama for one million in Alabama bonds. The bonds are to be delivered when all the legal forms are completed. West Florida first votes on the matter, then the Legislatures of both States act, and then the case is to be submitted to Congress for approval.

Miscellaneous

OTTAWA, May 24.—Dawson's report on the Red river route has been laid before the Board of Public Works. He recommends the opening of communication between Lake Superior and Red river and then to proceed with further works until a first class line is completed. The preliminary line will cost about a quarter of a million. Probably it will ultimately cost for railroad and continuous navigation about five million eight hundred thousand.

RICHMOND, May 24.—Army officers are ordered to report to Gen. Canby and be assigned as registrars at the revision of the registration for voting at separate places.

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—A boat containing 18 men capsized on Saturday below the city. Eight were drowned.

Eight firemen were severely injured and several others slightly hurt by falling walls at a fire on the corner of Canal and Common streets on the levee on Saturday night. Two of the men were reported dead.

HAVANA, May 24.—The steamer Western[illegible] which left Rio April 23 for New York ran ashore at Martinique under full head of steam. She will probably be a total loss. All hands were saved.

Cuban Affairs

WASHINGTON, May 23.—News received direct from Gen. Cespedes by the Cubans fully confirms the defeat of the Spaniards in attempting to open the railroad to Puerto Principe, but the particulars are kept private for some reason. The loss of the Spaniards is 100 killed and wounded. The Cuban force was 35,000 under Quesada and [illegible]. The Spaniards numbered about the same. The fighting was the severest during the war. The battle was decided by the arrival of Marquess Santa Lucas with 4,000 troops, a large portion of whom were mounted. Of the [illegible] colored troops 400 shot their officers and joined the Cubans. The remainder left and are supposed to have taken to the woods. All the baggage, provisions and ammunition, with a number of wounded and prisoners fell into the hands of the Cubans.

Growth of Our Country

From the New York Tribune, April 29

The Ninth Census is to be taken a little more than a year hence and already speculation is active as to its results. Will our past ratio of increase in population be maintained in view of our fearful losses by the late civil war? We think it cannot be. In our judgment this country has now one million fewer inhabitants than it would have had but for that war, and our losses are not yet complete since the untimely death of [illegible] men mainly young and vigorous men is certain [illegible] reduce the number of births in the next and even the subsequent decade. It is said that far fewer children are born than formerly because of the reluctance of wives to assume the perils and cares of maternity, but we hope to learn that the prevalence of this feeling has been much exaggerated. The talk of New England having fewer children born than those of foreign parentage has just this basis: Half of the young men and a full third of the young women of New England parentage migrate—wander off—go West—and their offspring figure in the census returns of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, etc., while Europeans in youthful vigor replace the sons of the pilgrims in their ancestral seats and bear children to be enumerated at Boston, Providence, Lowell and Manchester. We cannot believe that the vigor or the virtue of the old New England stock has departed.

The late Elkanah Watson, writing in 1815 on the progress of population in the United States said:

In 1[illegible] [illegible] The increase from [illegible] the first census under the Constitution has been about one-third of each census. Admitting that it will continue to increase in the same ratio, the result will be as follows:

In 1820	9,625,734	(It was 9,638,131)

It will be seen that the calculation, though surprisingly near the actual result, runs a little ahead of last year, though Texas had been annexed and New Mexico and California conquered meantime, as Louisiana had been a few years before Mr. Watson wrote. Deducting all that we have gained by these extensions of territory, and our population in 1860 would have fallen very considerably short of the estimate, though we believe it was then overstated. The census, or at least a good part of it—was taken by persons whose compensations were based on the numbers returned, hence a strong temptation to exaggerate. We believe the population of this city (for instance) was made 60,000 more than it actually was. We hope to see cat-o'-nine-tails [illegible] taken next year, the returns carefully scrutinized and revised and all persons who shall suppose they have failed to be enumerated or have been enumerated twice publicly [illegible] to make themselves manifest.

We judge that our population in 1870 fairly enumerated will fall considerably below Mr. Watson's estimate, though it will somewhat exceed forty millions. That no essential check by future ancestors [illegible] it will in 1900 fall considerably below one hundred millions cannot reasonably be doubted.

OUR NATIONAL AIRS.—Not one of the three national airs of the United States is strictly an original American composition. Their history is not in every case fully ascertained, but is somewhat as follows:

Yankee Doodle is said by most writers to have been the composition of an English physician and to date back to the French wars when it was composed in derision of the appearance of the volunteers from the colonies who assisted the British regulars. By others it is said to date as far back as the time of Cromwell. It was certainly known in England before the American revolution and was sung in derision of the Bostonians by the British [illegible] garrisoned the city. But the [illegible] the other side at the retreat of [illegible] England and the people there [illegible] made the troops [illegible] [illegible] band had [illegible] [illegible] Since that time the air has [illegible] [illegible] lands.

For music of the Star Spangled Banner [illegible] "Anacreon in Heaven." Robert Treat Paine adapted [illegible] air one of his popular songs "Adams and Liberty" during the life of Washington [illegible] which was in praise of the Father of his Country. But it was not until 1814 that Francis Scott Key, then a young lawyer, composed the present words in remembrance of the [illegible] attack of Fort McHenry when Baltimore was [illegible] by the British fleet—the sight of the [illegible] banner floating amid the carnage and [illegible] of the attack inspiring the refrain [illegible]

Territorial Extension

[illegible] further acquisition of territory to our [illegible] is looked upon by [illegible] as of very doubtful propriety [illegible] fear of the consequences. In the destiny which ultimately awaits the Government they see nothing but disaster. Mr. Walker, in his letter to the Nova Scotia [illegible], very forcibly discusses the question. We give an extract:

Experience has shown that distance from our seat of government creates no obstacle, even at the most remote points, to the successful permanence of the Union. The Pacific States were among the most loyal throughout the rebellion. Nor does the number of States or people create any difficulty. The reason is [illegible] the General Government has a few but clearly specified powers, such as to make war or peace, to preserve the Union from all assaults, foreign or domestic, to control our foreign relations, to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the States, to coin money and control the currency, to establish post-offices and post roads, etc. Each State for itself regulates all its own local concerns, and all that thus affects life, liberty, and property in all the social and domestic relations between man and man within its limits. Nor does the exploded objection that a republic such as ours is suited only to a limited area find now any advocates. Until 1803 our whole area was but 800,000 square miles, but now by successive additions it embraces 4,000,000 of square miles, and the Union and Government have been greatly strengthened by each annexation. Variety of products increases the interchange between the States, enlarges our domestic trade and intercourse, increasing business and augmenting the demand for labor. The increased number of States and people only strengthens the Union, and makes it more beneficial to all its parts. Each State has thus a far greater interest in the Union when its markets embrace thirty-seven States instead of thirteen, and forty millions instead of three millions of people. Nova Scotia knows that it would be for her to obtain here the markets of forty rather than of three millions of people, and what she readily perceives is thoroughly understood by the people of all our States. Every addition, then, to our territory and population is a new bond of Union, greatly augmenting our wealth and power.

Mr. Sprague as a Gentleman

Senator Sprague has outlawed himself from good society and the esteem of honorable men by his recent wholesale publication of several hundred letters from respectable gentlemen all over the country, which were evidently intended to be strictly confidential. Most of them were in approval of the bold position against corruption which he assumed in his speech of nearly a month since. Since that time the Rhode Island Senator has apparently lost his head, and has indulged in the most indiscriminate and ridiculous attacks against individual citizens of his own State. With a most absurd degree of insanity and a most outrageous defiance of all the rules which should govern the conduct of gentlemen, he has scraped together all of the private communications he has received and published them indiscriminately in the Globe.

One of them was written by the managing editor of this paper, who cordially admired the pluck while doubting the discretion of the Senator, and said so in a few hastily written words. He is willing to stand by what he said, and to regret that since his letter was written the object of his commendation has forfeited what respect was due to him as a bold reformer by degenerating into a common scold and by violating the canons of common decency.—N. Y. Mail.

NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA.—There is something instructive as well as amusing in the following story, which is told by a correspondent of the German Reform Messenger, of the impression made upon a European traveler by witnessing the eagerness of Americans for newspapers.

He hastily approached me with eyes gleaming with admiration and delight. "What a wonderful race the American people are!" was his enthusiasm. "Every man with his newspaper. See the drayman there sitting on his dray, eagerly reading his newspaper; and that hackman mounted on his perch with his whip on his knee, diving into his newspaper; and yonder that laborer stepping on the corner to buy his newspaper; and see that paver, repairing the levee with a newspaper sticking out of his pocket, where he has just placed it for further reading as he has leisure. So I have seen it in every American town and city. There is nothing like it in Europe. No other people through all its ranks can be so versed in the current information of the country and the world. Wonderful people these Americans!" [illegible] was his pointed summing up [illegible] to hint at the profound prophecy embodied in this popular phrase and fact. This expression brings up to view the vast educational value and effect of the newspaper, secular or religious, in American society, touching our social, civil, or individual interests—moulding and fashioning national, social or political character.

THE McMINNVILLE WATER DITCH.—We have, for some time, intended noticing this enterprise which should be named a canal instead of a ditch. It has been a favorite scheme in the minds of citizens of McMinnville for several years, and as long ago as 1861 Mr. Newby (the President of the present company) employed D. C. Lewis, Esq., of this place, to ascertain the feasibility of the route by an actual survey. Nothing more was done until in September last, when C. M. Carter, J. C. Ainsworth, S. Coffin, Wm. L. Newby, I. M. Johns, Mr. Embree and others filed the articles of incorporation for "The McMinnville Water and Manufacturing Company." Under these articles Mr. Newby has raised nearly forty thousand dollars, which is above the estimated cost of the canal. It is proposed to increase the stock subscriptions to seventy five or one hundred thousand dollars, so that the Company can erect a large flouring mill and woolen factory, as soon as the water is available for power. The canal will be about nineteen miles in length, taking the water from the South Fork of the Yamhill river, and coursing down the beautiful valley, unequaled for beauty and fertility anywhere else in Oregon, giving one water power of sixteen feet at Sheridan, another of twelve feet at Deer Creek, and with sixty four feet fall at McMinnville, or three privileges at the terminus, making in all five privileges, of a water power of forty cubic feet per second. It is claimed that this is the greatest power at any one point in Oregon, outside of Oregon City. The canal will be some ten feet in width, and so constructed as to be used for transportation purposes; and in this capacity will most effectually concentrate all the trade and traffic of the South Yamhill, Grande Ronde, Willamina and other valleys, upon the line of the canal, and pour it into the enterprising little town which has originated and pushed forward the enterprise. The friends of the enterprise claim that the canal alone will not cost over forty thousand dollars and will pay one per cent. interest on two hundred thousand dollars.

The work is now fairly inaugurated, W. L. Gaston, Engineer; M. S. Hall, Superintendent, and Messrs Newby, (President), Johns, Strange, Bowlby and Gaston, Directors.

FOURTH OF JULY MEETING.—Pursuant to the call made, the committees on Finance and Arrangements, who were appointed to raise funds and make the necessary arrangements for the celebration of the Fourth of July, met at the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, May 25, 1869, and, on motion, S. J. McCormick, Esq., was chosen chairman, who took the chair and called the meeting to order. On motion, the following Committees were appointed, viz:

On Invitations—His Honor Hamilton Boyd, Mayor, T. G. T[illegible], [illegible] Hensel, W. S. Ladd, and J. F. McCoy.

On Fire Works—Charles Hodges, S. J. McCormick and Walter M[illegible].

On Music—A. B. Richardson, Jacob Myers and Joseph [illegible].

On Programme—W. S. Ladd, H. D. Green and A. L.

On Declaration, Oration and Officers of the Day—J. F. McCoy, Al Zieber and A. P. Dennison.

On Grounds—R. B. Knapp, Philip Wasserman and W. H. Wood.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to notify the several persons appointed on the respective committees of their appointment, by publishing the proceedings of the meeting containing their names and that each person so appointed be requested to notify the Secretary, in writing, forthwith, as to whether they will or will not accept and serve on such committee.

On motion, the meeting adjourned to meet again at the Council Chamber on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock.

S. J. McCORMICK, Chairman.

J. F. McCOY, Secretary.

FROM WALLA WALLA.—The Statesman of the 31st [illegible] the following:

Philip Ritz filed his bond in the early part of the week, and is now prepared to enter on the discharge of his [illegible] as U. S. Marshal.

In the case of Walla Walla county vs. A. Seitel et. al., a [illegible] was had by which $2,500 was to be paid to the [illegible] within ten days; and while this is not the [illegible] claimed by the county in the suit, it is [illegible] to be a very advantageous arrangement.

[illegible] the last week Walla Walla valley has been visited by [illegible] showers of rain, accompanied by thunder [illegible]. On Tuesday evening a couple of clouds [illegible] formed a water spout and descended with great force, causing much damage to property. The fury of the storm was expended on Cottonwood Creek, about [illegible] miles from town, where we hear of a dwelling house being swept away, and a number of cattle drowned. The owner of the property had recently came up from [illegible] to get out of the wet, but thinks he has gained little by the [illegible].

[illegible] has resigned the office of Postmaster, and Chas. Moore has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

A [illegible] of the finances of Walla Walla county shows the indebtedness of the county to be $9,560 13.

THE AMERICAN YEAR BOOK AND NATIONAL REGISTER.—A [illegible] of books bearing titles resembling this have been issued from the press; but this volume certainly [illegible] in point of completeness, beauty and usefulness any we have seen. It is a perfect Year Book and [illegible] Register for 1869, and contains a mass of [illegible], well arranged and digested, which we [illegible] to say can be obtained in so convenient a form from no other source. It exhibits almost at a glance, the [illegible], industrial and religious condition of the [illegible]; contains a well written account of every State in the Union and a complete list of all officers, State and [illegible]; gives an account of foreign countries and a vast mass of important facts relating to their government, army, navy and commerce; has tables exhibiting the Presidential election returns in all our States from 1856 to 1868, and presents in the moderate compass of a [illegible] of 800 pages a complete encyclopedia of [illegible] information. Its contents are arranged with [illegible] and perspicuity and much labor has been expended to bring the mass of materials into the best possible shape. The book is published by F. Dewing & Co. of San Francisco. Mr. Halpruner, agent, is now delivering copies to subscribers in this city.

A "LONG TOMAS" SMART ALECK.—A confederate white man writes us a letter from Long Tom, signs himself "Long tomas" and adds in postscript: "Me nigger re[illegible]." The fellow is a most transparent bilk—a co[illegible] Democrat who is not half as intelligent as the average of "niggers." Nobody but a regular, bed rock, "Long Tom" Democrat could have perpetrated such an outrage upon the integrity of the King's English, as the following:

[illegible] BENEFIT.—If Miss Nellie Cummings' head is of that sort which is easily turned, she will be in some danger of being spoiled by the flattering compliments paid her last evening, on the occasion of her benefit. In fact, the large attendance, second, the unusually hearty and frequent applause she had, and third, the [illegible] and boquets and the summons before the curtain. In brief, the audience gave her almost an ovation. The drama of "The Hidden Hand" was the play performed, in which she sustained the leading character and in a very spirited and creditable manner, too. Miss Cummings has greatly advanced her position in the profession since she came here, and her reception last evening evidenced the fact that she ranks well in the estimation of our public. We learn with regret that she contemplates leaving Portland by the steamer of to day. She will leave many friends here who will send with her their best wishes for her future success.

MURDER AT TILLAMOOK.—On Monday, the 17th inst., a man named Goodale was found dead in the trail between Tillamook bay and Netarts. Several wounds, made by buckshot, were found in his body, and one of his arms was broken by the shot. A man calling himself George Riggs, though sometimes known by the name of Jones, was suspected of the deed. He was arrested and feigned insanity. Sufficient precautions were not observed in confining him, and on the second night after his arrest he escaped. He was traced from Hoquarton over to Netarts bay, and from there, he took to the mountains and has not since been heard of. A difficulty had existed for some time between him and Goodale relative to a half breed girl of whom the latter was the guardian. Riggs wanted the girl and Goodale opposed him. The murdered man was an old mountaineer and had been for several years among the Snake Indians. He had lived at Tillamook nearly four years.

FINANCIAL.—The financial article in J. C. Merrill & Co's Market Report says: "Our local money market is working with almost accustomed regularity and ease, as —for the purposes of legitimate business—there is no difficulty in obtaining accommodation needed at 1½ ℘ cent per month; but loans for speculative objects hang fire. There is a strong disposition evinced to quash all movements in that line unless they are based on solid foundations. The savings and loan societies are making no loans at present. The number of homestead associations is so great, and the inducements they put forth to invest in lots are so captivating, that tens of thousands of dollars are weekly absorbed by them. The fever has got entire control of nearly the whole laboring population, who place most of their surplus earnings in lands instead of the usual public depositories."

WASHINGTON GUARD'S PICNIC.—If the weather proves favorable, the Washington Guard's Annual Picnic will come off to-morrow. The steamer will leave Vaughn's wharf for Pleasant Grove at the hours of 9 A. M., 12 M. and 3 P. M. Everybody and his wife and all the young folks are going, and everybody expects to have a happy time. We don't doubt but their anticipations will be fully realized.

HARVESTING AND WOOD WORKING MACHINERY.—The attention of dealers and farmers is called to the advertisement of Treadwell & Co. of San Francisco, which appears to-day under the head of "New To-day." The same company also advertise all sorts of wood working machinery and tools, from the best manufacturers.

WOOL.—A large lot of wool arrived by one of the up river steamers yesterday, from Messrs. Beach & Monteith, Albany, for shipment to San Francisco. One of the late market reports, before us quotes wool in that market at 20@23c, with a slight declining tendency. The receipts have been much larger than last year.

BOOK BINDERY AT SALEM.—We learn that Messrs. Snyder & Co. of Salem, have received the material for their book bindery and are now prepared to do every kind of work in that line. We take pleasure also in commending them as among the first class workmen of the country.

[illegible] MAIL.—The mail by the steamer Oriflamme will close this afternoon at five o'clock and fifteen minutes, three-quarters of an hour before the departure of the [illegible].

[illegible] OX.—THE MAMMOTH OX.—Messrs. Morris & Avery have on exhibition in this city, the mammoth ox called "Mt. Hood," raised in Umatilla county. He is seven years old, weighs near three thousand pounds though quite lean, stands seventeen and three quarter hands high and measures in girth nine feet and one inch. With such a mammoth frame, he ought to weigh when fatted at least four thousand pounds. He is undoubtedly the largest bovine that ever made tracks on the Pacific coast. We learn that if the owners realize enough from his exhibition to pay transportation, they will take him to the East and show him there as a specimen of what Oregon can do in the calf line.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.—The annual picnic festival of the Sunday Schools of Trinity Parish and St. Stephens Chapel will take place, Divine Providence permitting, on Saturday of this week, at Pleasant Grove, in union with the Episcopal Sunday Schools of Oregon City and Milwaukee. The steamer Senator, by the kind arrangement of the P. T. C., will arrive at the foot of Morrison street (Vaughn's wharf), at nine o'clock A. M. The scholars, teachers and parents, with their preparations are requested to be at the wharf promptly at nine o'clock.

RUMOR OF A SHOOTING AFFAIR.—There was a rumor in this city yesterday to the effect that one of the employes on the Cascade had shot and killed the Engineer at the Cascade Landing. It created for a while a considerable sensation. Upon inquiry, however we found that the rumor was totally untrue. There was some difficulty between the two persons mentioned, the nature or extent of which we did not seek to learn, but nobody was killed and nobody shot. The rumor was doubtless started to create a sensation.

DEATH OF MRS. BURMEISTER.—The Salem Statesman of the 20th inst. announces the death of Mrs. Theodore Burmeister, from the effects of her wounds. She expired at fifteen minutes past two o'clock last Wednesday morning. The Statesman says the event has created the most profound grief throughout the entire community. The deceased was a daughter of Mr. J. T. Hunsaker, of Clackamas county, aged about twenty six years. She leaves two children.

THE VAUGHN LARKIN HOMICIDE.—The Herald of yesterday professes to have been informed that our account of the Vaughn-Larkin homicide "was incorrect and displayed considerable malice." In regard to that we have only to say that we related the circumstances as detailed to us, and that nothing could have been further from our purpose than to display malice, as we never knew, saw or heard of Vaughn till we heard of the killing.

APPLICATION TO BE ADMITTED TO BAIL.—Sheriff Myers, of Clackamas county, came down on Monday, having in charge Frank Vaughn, who was committed the other day at Oregon City, for the murder of A. D. Larkin. An application is made to Judge Upton to admit the prisoner to bail, and the hearing will be had to-day.

ARMY CONTRACTS.—Quite a batch of army quartermaster's contracts were let yesterday, in pursuance of Gen. Saxton's advertisement for bids. The contracts are for transportation of supplies from various of the military depots and camps to other posts.

REMEMBER THE FESTIVAL TO NIGHT.—Everybody should remember the strawberry festival at the vestry room, Trinity Church, this evening.

WILL SAIL TO-DAY.—The steamship Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco, at 6 o'clock this afternoon.

ASH STREET.—The grading and center roadway upon Ash street have been finished.

THE RAILROAD TERMINUS.—By the arrival of the steamer Oriflamme, it will be positively known where the Railroad Terminus on the Sound will be established, and before long an army of men, equal to that of the grand Pacific Railroad, will be employed, who will build the road with all possible speed. The Depot, without further doubt, will be established at the well known house of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, where the finest, best and most stylish Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods and Dry Goods can always be had, at such low prices that the most crabbed purchasers must be pleased.

BLACKSMITH'S AND CARPENTERS' TOOLS, for sale by H. W. CORBETT & CO.

☞ Read H. D. & Co's Ad in Herald and DAILY OREGONIAN and then the following

WHY IS IT?

Why Is It? [illegible] THE BUCKEYE RECEIVED ALL THE [illegible] premiums at State Fairs during 1868 [illegible] the OFFICIAL RECORDS [illegible] a different showing? [illegible] State Fair in Ohio [illegible] WHY IS IT that [illegible] the coveted First Prize [illegible]

Why Is It? [illegible] WHY IS IT that a CLIPPER [illegible] agent carried off the said First Premium [illegible] the "BUCKEYE" and other [illegible] were?

[illegible] BUCKEYE captured the grand gold [illegible] at the great National Trial, [illegible] changes have been rung—WHY IS IT that it would not be in good taste to ADD that this was a long time ago (1865), and THEN [illegible] CERTAIN CLASS as a mower [illegible] at the same trial in certain other classes several OTHER machines captured Grand Gold Medals?

Why Is It? If the Buckeye is acknowledged by ALL the [illegible] as the best machine invented, WHY IS IT that at numerous Field Trials, County and State Fairs in 1868 a different verdict was announced, and further WHY IS IT that in so many of the large grain growing districts east of the Rocky Mountains the Farmers should be unaware of this important fact, and other Patterns besides the Buckeye should so largely have the preference?

Why Is It? If the "Sweepstakes" is the best Thresher extant, WHY IS IT that the sales of some other manufacturers should so greatly exceed those of the "Sweepstakes?" and WHY IS IT that so many of the wheat buyers along the Willamette GIVE THE PREFERENCE to grain threshed and cleaned with the IMPROVED "CHALLENGER?" And again, WHY IS IT that after all this "fuss" and "blow" brought to bear in favor of the "Sweepstakes," and to make Farmers believe that the sun rises and sets in a "Sweepstakes"—Separator, yes, after all this agony, sitting up of big dead and painting "Sweepstakes" and "Buckeye" on boards to adorn Fir Trees along the roadside, WHY IS IT that the Most Intelligent and Experienced Threshers pronounce in favor of the "CHALLENGER?"

Why Is It? If certain "honorable" and "upright" dealers do not aim to mislead the public, WHY IS IT that they advertise themselves as SOLE agents for the genuine Haines' Header?

We have not space to enumerate several more queries that present themselves but while we do not wish to detract from the merits of the "Buckeye" or "Sweepstakes," we would caution Farmers not to be HUMBUGGED and MISLED by windy representations garbled reports and statements, but to look about and make a personal examination and comparison of the various IMPROVEMENTS lately made on harvesting machines, before buying. If then not fully satisfied as to which is the BEST MACHINE we will allow any purchaser the privilege of working a "Clipper" alongside of a "Buckeye Mower," a Dodge's Improved "Ohio and Buckeye" Hand or Self-Raking Reaper and Mower of the new style alongside of a "Buckeye Self-Raker," or a Pitt's "Challenger" alongside of a "Sweepstakes," he agreeing to keep and pay for the machine preferred.

We invite and challenge THIS SORT of competition, not fearing the intelligent farmer's choice. Such trials are more satisfactory to the farmer than all this "claptrap" of prizes awarded and high sounding statements of superiority. More anon.

Manners of Political Visitors at Washington

Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune

I was writing and making notes in the library of Congress three weeks ago, and while most busily engaged a shadow from behind fell upon my table. Thinking it some friend who was privileged to take the liberty, I did not look up for some seconds or minutes. The hand from behind picked up a piece of my manuscript, read it over, took up a second and so forth, until finally I turned round irritated.

There stood a total stranger, a large, politician like, coarse-grained, impudent-eyed man—coolly reading my manuscript. It was so outrageous a violation of decency and so rascally a liberty, that I felt the blood go up my face like the hoisting of the British standard.

"Is that your conception of manners, Sir?" I said to the man.

He looked at me like a stone with a smile on it for a few minutes and then said, with a contemptuous voice:

"My God! I reckon everything here is public property, ain't it? I reckon 'taint no use to put on airs here, be it? I guess not!"

Not deigning me another word, this republican genius went round all the circuit of the tables, peering in the notes and pages of every reader, lady or man, and at the end, giving me a half defiant yet impassive look, went out at a floundering stride.

Two days afterward I saw this man walking between two Senators, go into the White House. A few days ago he was pointed out to me as a man who had captured a valuable revenue office in one of the Southern States. Is it not manifest that such beings, contributed to the South as instances of Northern breeding, should make the people there harden toward us? And it is just that class of men who want permission, in their own vernacular, to "ride rough-shod over the rebels," compel social association and do brutality in the name of freedom.

Now, consider this type of a man a representative unit of the two or three thousand visitors at the White House daily. If he sees a door marked that is the particular door which he means to go through. If he cannot go through it, he will peep through it. He means to "make a row" about it. His impudent stare and the coarse "feel" of his hand is upon every face or object he sees. The only sort of grace he possesses is an adjunct to cunning, when, on occasion, he can wheedle, or flatter, and put his soul through degrading gymnastics, creep on his belly, kneel and crawl like a snake—anything but hear a "No" said without insolence or malignity.

"Public not admitted here,"

Fiasco.—The employment of this word which is now much used by dramatical and musical critics, is asserted to be derived from one of two sources. A German visitor to an Italian glass factory thought nothing could be more easy than to blow a sphere such as he saw one of the men engaged in blowing. He was invited to make the attempt, made several, and could never get beyond the formation of a pear-shaped flask, like that we are familiar with as the recipient of salad oil: hence the use of the word to indicate a partial failure. The other etymology, which is suggested by M. Paul Gravier, appears more probable. He says The celebrated harlequin, Biancolelli, used to make his appearance before the audience, and deliver a monologue previous to the commencement of a play in vogue, which was so amusing that it was looked for with greater interest than the play itself. One evening he made his appearance on the stage with a straw-covered flask in his hand, but failed to excite the usual laughter and applause, upon which he held up the wine-flask, and addressing it, he said, "It is thy fault, if I am dull this evening!" and then threw the flask over his shoulder. Since that time the word had been used to signify the failure of an artist.—Once a Week.

Said General W. B. Stokes, in his late speech at Nashville: "Now, I'll tell you what's a fact. There isn't a man nor a party that Johnson hasn't deceived. If there is a man in this crowd who can say that Andrew Johnson never deceived him, I should like to see him step forth. He has been a popular man in his day, for he has been with and deceived all parties in turn. He is full of deceit and demagogism. He is like the old sow. You might take her up, put her in a bath tub and scrub her perfectly clean, turn her out, and she would run five miles in a hot summer day in August, through clear water, to reach her wallowing place in an old peach orchard again, yes, in the heart of that old defunct Democracy."

A Connecticut editor disappointed in his hopes of office and spoils at Washington, tries to brace himself against envy of luckier men by these reflections: "Almost everybody has it, more or less. That's what ailed Cain; it disturbed Jacob, put Joseph into a pit; harried the patriarchs and kept letting down the prophets; it crops out frequently in politics, more often, perhaps in the army, infects the festive fire company, disturbs the rural militia, creeps occasionally into the pulpit, and always blossoms in the choir."

Keep to the Treaties.—The Chinese Government continues to find fault with the mining laws of California which discriminate as against the Chinese emigrant, claiming that these laws are in contravention of the terms of treaty stipulations. It is encouraging to note that the Chinese are waking up to their interests in the outer world, and that the Government has a regard for something outside of its own serene and flowery highmightiness.
